

ASIAN BAROMETER SURVEY OF DEMOCRACY, GOVERNANCE AND DEVELOPMENT

Interview No. _____

INTRODUCTION: Good morning/afternoon/evening. I am ____ from [name of institution]. We are conducting a public opinion survey on how citizens in [country] think about issues like government and the economy. Your household has been chosen by chance. Let me give you some information and then you can decide whether you're willing to accept my interview. The interview would take about 60 minutes. I won't record your name or any identifying information about you, so no one can ever find out what you told me. If you participate, there's no risk to you. We aren't providing any reward or benefit for people who participate. But if you participate, you can help us get a better understanding of how people feel about some of the important issues facing the country today. You don't have to participate if you don't want to. You can refuse to answer any of my questions that you don't want to answer. And you can also stop participating any time if you don't want to continue. Finally, let me give you this card, which has the phone number of a person at our headquarters whom you can call if you have any questions later on. So that's it. I hope you are willing to accept my interview. Is it okay to proceed?
